Practicing kindness, respect, and good manners toward others.

Member Medallion

Worn on a red ribbon, this medallion may be worn by those who have been officially initiated into the Order. It represents active membership and a commitment to DeMolay's core virtues.

Our Final Bloom?

The Future of the Clark County Fairgrounds

This year's fair booth was a lot of work, but thanks to our incredible volunteers, it was a huge success. From sizzling onions to steady teamwork, we made a strong showing and helped fund our Chapter's activities for the year ahead. However, there's talk that future fairs may shift away from traditional booths in favor of food trucks. Fair administrators are considering several upgrades, which could change the experience for groups like ours. If this was our last Blooming Onion at the fair, we made it a year to remember!

Advisors Corner

Courtesy isn't just about saying "please" and "thank you", it's about treating everyone with dignity and respect, no matter the situation.

Whether you're in a meeting, at school, or working the onion booth at the fair, your words and actions reflect who you are and what DeMolay stands for. A kind gesture or thoughtful tone can leave a lasting impression. Practice courtesy, daily, it's one of the simplest ways to lead by example.

THANK YOU!

The Vancouver Chapter of DeMolay had another successful year of fundraising for our activities throughout the upcoming year.
